Sub- Committee Report
November Term 2018

During our visit to the jail, we experienced all around great service from the time we entered till the minute we left. We had an officer who served at the prison for over 10 years escort us to the employee lunchroom where he explained the services they offer to everyone. Due to the hour's employees have to work, free lunch is offered. The cafeteria was clean we were also offered lunch and the food was good. There was a large variety of food for everyone to try. The atmosphere was also very lighthearted with each employee interacting throughout the lunch period.

Our officer then took each of us through the procedures and mandates within the jail. Explaining in detail the reason for colored uniforms, areas of the prison, convict introduction procedures, security procedures, and visitation systems.

During our walkthrough, we were able to see certain convicts with special privileges work within the jail. They also have the privilege of buying certain needs, and pleasurable items like toiletries, food, and books at a certain price.

The last part of the tour concluded with a visit to the jail cells, and the visitation centers in another building across the street. It was really informative on how the jail operates to transition convicts back into society. The stigma can make citizens believe that jail only holds importance over holding criminals when actually they carry the responsibility of giving them second chances at a normal life. Our tour overall was informative and excellent we felt safe at all times and believe the facility ran everything by the books as a collective.
